

Pupils march on No 10

CHILDREN at Elthorne High School have organised a sponsored march to Trafalgar Square to raise cash to save their school.

After the ten mile march from Hanwell, children and parents hope to take a petition to prime Minister Margaret Thatcher in Downing Street.

Spokesman Matt Atkins said he expects 100 children and a few parents and teachers to take part.

Lord Molloy and Ealing South MP Syd Bidwell are expected to lead the march on Sunday, March 13.

The Save Elthorne campaign also has a meeting lined up with junior Education Minister Rhodes Boyson on March 24.

● Elthorne pupil Julie Neal parted with her life-long teddy Henry, at a jumble sale which raised £200 for the campaign.

Ann Pearce, of Haslemere Avenue, West Ealing, organised the sale on Saturday, which included an appearance by Labour councillor Stephen Pound.
